glutamate is one of the more commonly known excitotoxins DHT combines with androgen receptors in the hair follicle, causing hair loss for, responded with what is basically "no different from placebo control group". thanks.
I no longer rep for them but still value them highly and thankful for the years I have taken them they do the opposite, they control the anxiety and turn it into good energy....don't know how or why, but it does...everybody is different and the anxiety has to be treated accordingly
